

SENIOR SQL / BI DEVELOPER

EnterpriseWorx is a Johannesburg-based IT company with areas of expertise including business intelligence, data management and application development, as well as an array of solutions tailored to address clients' specific needs.

Established in 2003, we've become specialists in using the power of technology and information to give organisations a competitive edge. To this end, we prioritise global best practices, agile methods, superior technology and the highest-calibre people and process optimisation, and we support all services with first-class IT project management and business analysis.

Job Description:

The SQL / BI Developer position requires a strong understanding of the flow of data throughout the business and a strong understanding of the processes performed on the data to transform this data to support Client knowledge discovery. The position will take accountability for obtaining data from Clients, transforming this data into the format required and loading this into a database environment.

From there, specified tests will need to be performed on the data and reports and other data objects generated. A strong emphasis will be placed on the optimisation and improvement of existing data load processes.

Summary of Key Role MS SQL Server Skills required:

1. Advanced T-SQL developed and code reviews.
2. Data warehouse ETL & Processing development.
3. T-SQL Optimising queries.
4. Technical Data Modelling according to business requirements.
5. Business Intelligence – Application Development (Power BI, QlikView, Tableau etc)
6. Architecting & Design of Data flows.
7. Data balancing.
8. Ability to work independently with clients.

Advantageous MS SQL Server experience:

1. MS SQL Server Administration.
 - a. Full scope of DBA experience.
 - b. In depth knowledge of MS SQL Server Replication.
 - c. Automation of MS SQL Server monitoring and alerting.
2. Full end to end development of Data warehouses.
3. Understanding of retail and financial systems.